THE SERIES WITH MARYLAND: This will be the 19th meeting between the Cavaliers and the Terrapins, with Virginia leading the all-time series 16-0-2. Virginia had won the first 15 games played between the schools, before a 1-1 tie during the 1994 ACC Tournament in Chapel Hill, N.C. (the Terrapins advanced on penalty kicks). The other tie between the teams came last year in a 1-1 game played in College Park. The Cavaliers stand 5-0-0 against the Terrapins in games played in Charlottesville, including a 2-0-0 mark at Klöckner Stadium. In the 18 previous meetings, Virginia has outscored Maryland 63-8.

THE LAST MEETING WITH THE TERRAPINS — VIRGINIA 1, MARYLAND 1 (OT): The 10th ranked Cavaliers ended what had been a perfect season for No. 4 Maryland with a 1-1 tie at Ludwig Field in College Park, Md. Neither team scored during regulation, before the Terrapins hit the first goal just over 10 minutes into overtime. Emmy Harbo scored on a rebound following a save by Virginia goalkeeper Liza Tatar. With just over five minutes to play in the second overtime period, the Cavaliers tied the game on a goal by Kelly Buszkiewicz. Dina Padula passed the ball to Buszkiewicz, who nailed a 30-yard shot into the upper right corner of the goal. Tatar, who was filling in for injured starter Megan Boehm, made 13 saves for the Cavaliers.

CAREER STATS AGAINST MARYLAND: The Cavaliers and the Terrapins have met four times over the last three seasons, with UVa winning twice (1-0 in 1994 and 4-0 in 1995) and two games ending in ties (1-1 in the 1994 NCAA Tournament and 1-1 in 1996). The only current Virginia player to have scored a goal in any of those games in Wendy Hartwig, who netted the Cavaliers second goal in the 1995 game. Tania Jovanovic has recorded a pair of assists against the Terrapins during her career, with one coming on Dina Padula's game winning goal in 1994 and the other being on a goal by Jen Gilpatric in 1995. In addition, goalkeeper Brit Swenberg played against Maryland in 1995, making three saves while recording the shutout.

THE CLEMSON RECAP: The sixth-ranked Cavaliers lost only their second game of the season, as they dropped a 2-0 decision at No. 17 Clemson in their last contest on Oct. 24. Sara Burkett scored the game-winning goal for the Tigers at the 44:41 mark on a double assists from Libby King and Jackie Cooper. Clemson added an insurance goal at the 69:03 mark, when Amy Gray scored off an assist from Sheri Bueter. The Tigers held a 19-9 advantage in shots, including a 13-4 edge in the second half. Megan Boehm made eight saves in goal for the Cavaliers.

SCOUTING THE TERRAPINS: Maryland enters today's game with an overall record of 9-5-2 and a 3-2-0 mark in the Atlantic Coast Conference. The Terrapins are on a two-game winning streak, and are coming off a 5-0 victory over Navy on Sunday. Junior forward Keri Sarver leads the team in scoring with 30 points on 12 goals and six assists, while junior forward Emmy Harbo has 16 points on seven goals and two assists. Freshman Alli Wolff has started 10 games in goal for the Terrapins, recording a 1.31 goals against average with 41 saves and five shutouts.
